NORTHERN TRIBUNE.

Entered at the Postoffice at Cheboygan Mich., as Second Class Matter.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1884.

THE CITY.

E. Nelson arrived home from Chicago Tuesday.

St. John, Butler, Blaine and Cleveland pins at Fexer's jewelry store.

Jerry O'Brien, of Sault Ste. Marie, was in town Monday and Tuesday.

Logan has been having as enthusiastic reception in Iowa as Blaine has had in Indiana.

John Goulden returned home from Port Huron Tuesday on the Atlantic, greatly improved in health.

Lenny Kessler, a small boy, was run over at the corner of Third and Water streets Tuesday, but was not badly hurt.

Anthony Hamel and bride, from Mackinac Island, spent Sunday in Cheboygan with Mrs. Geo. G. Wharton, Mr. Hamel's sister.

Samuel H. Taylor yesterday placed $40,000 insurance against loss by fire for Thompson Smith, of Duncan City, in his agencies.

The captain of the schooner Margaret A. Muir reports a snow storm on Georgian Bay last Friday, covering the deck of the schooner with snow.

Watts S. Humphrey's fine young trotting horse, Wm. T. is afflicted with the malignant sore throat, but under treatment of Dr. Rexford is improving.

The cold wave predicted by the weather bureau struck Cheboygan, and the effect on the average citizen was only less than that of the Ohio election upon the Democrats.

The Democrats are in trouble, Mr. Mettiev having declined their nomination as candidate for Probate Judge they are in a quandary to get a man to accept the nomination.

W. & A. McArthur are bound to keep away in the van in regard to the quantity, quality and prices. Their new goods have arrived. See their new advertisement in this issue.

There was a suicide committed last night, Ranciers cow went into Taggart's barn, stuck her head through a hole to eat hay and got her horns fast and fell and a dead cow was the result.

Messrs Langmaid & Clark have purchased the stock of S. R. Snow, the harness maker. and Mr. Snow retires from the business. The stock was moved yesterday to Langmaid & Clark's shop.

Wetmore & Paddock brought in a new add this week, but too late for this issue. Look out for it next week, and in the meantime call at the old reliable brick store and examine their new goods and ascertain prices.

The Republicans of the Seventeenth Congressional district of Ohio now claim the election of Taylor over Warner. This would give the Republicans 11 and Democrats 10, making a gain of 5 Congressmen for the Republicans.

The boiler taken from the wreck of the propeller Canisteo, and which was landed on McArthur's dock last week, has been given a coat of paint. With the exception of three sheets, which were badly jammed by the effect of the ice, the boiler is as good as new.

That Democratic majority of 12,000 in West Virginia has dwindled down so low that the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Concedes that it will not be over 2,500, and liable to be less than that. This is what the Democrats are crowing over.

Charles F. Gibson, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, was in Cheboygan Tuesday making acquaintances. He reports everything looking favorable in his canvass, and is confident of being elected by a good round majority. He and Hon. Geo. W. Bell went to Mackinaw City in the afternoon and held a meeting that evening, addressing a good audience.

Wm. B. Ellis and family leave this week for their new home in East Saginaw. Mr. Ellis and Spencer Barclay have located at 608 South Webster street, in that city, and have fitted it up in good shape for carrying on the meat business, and will be glad to see any of their Cheboygan friends at that number at any time they may be in that city. The Tribune joins Mr. and Mrs. Ellis' many friends in wishing them prosperity.

Look out for roorbacks from the Democrats between this and November 4th.

The hour for evening services at the churches has been changed to seven o'clock.

The ovation to James G. Blaine does not lessen as he gets westward. Wherever he appeared in Indiana the people turned out en masse to greet him.

Mrs. Robert Patterson left at the Tribune office last Friday a ripe wild strawberry she had picked that day near Topinabee. Quite a number of ripe berries were picked the same day by different parties, and the vines were full of blossoms.

The lighthouse tower on the pier at the entrance of the harbor is completed. It is all iron and very complete in structure. Inside is a winding stairway, leading to the top of the tower. In shipping the light a mistake was made, a part of two lights being sent here. If it had not been for this error the light would have been in position.

Charles D. Wheelock, of Munro township, raised a crop of oats on 1 1/2 acres that threshed out 105 bushels. It was the first crop raised, and was sown among the stumps. The threshing was done by John A. Horr. The crops in that town are all reported excellent. The farmers are clearing up their farms rapidly, and claim as good soil as any section of the county.

Capt. David Muir, of the schooner Margaret A. Muir, says that while in Collingwood, accompanied by the captain of another vessel, he went to a store to buy a bushel of apples, but when they ascertained the price they concluded as it would take the freight on fifty bushels of grain from Chicago to Collingwood to pay for the apples, that they would dispense with apple pie on board their crafts.

It is reported that a man named James Duggan, of Cheboygan, shot and killed a man and woman at Grand Marais, within the last few days.—St. Ignace News.

The above is from Tuesday's News. If there was any shooting done it was not by "James Duggan, of Cheboygan." There is only one James Duggan in this village, and he has not been out of town for weeks. Why the editor of the News should locate the Duggan that did the shooting, if there was any shooting done, at Cheboygan, we cannot conceive. Such a serious charge should have more confirmation than mere report before gaining credence and being published against any person.

Our cotemporary adopts the usual tactics of the Democracy in the national and state campaign in the local contest, that is an utter disregard of truth. A week ago last Sunday Charles J. Hunt, the Republican candidate for County Clerk, accompanied by his wife, paid a visit to friends in Riggsville. Learning of the visit, the editor of the Democratic organ accused him of going electioneering on Sunday, and of adopting the Democratic principle of trying to buy votes by dispensing beer. We would ask the honorable Democrats of Cheboygan county if they are willing to endorse such disreputable tactics? Cannot a Republican candidate for office take his wife and visit friends in the country on Sunday without having that sheet make such deliberate false statements? Do the Democrats of Cheboygan county consider the fate of their ticket so hopeless as to require of their organ the adoption of such a method?

The body of Andrew Wilson, the sailor drowned off the schooner Two Fannies while passing through the straits Sept. 22nd, was discovered in the lower end of Duncan bay last Friday by a boy engaged in picking up drift wood. He brought word to the store at Duncan City, and from there word was sent to Justice Frost, who held an inquest on the remains. The friends of the deceased were notified by a telegram and answered to have the remains forwarded to them in Wisconsin, if in condition for shipment. The long exposure of the body rendered this impossible, as mortification set in soon after removal from the water. A brother of the deceased was in port when the body was found, being a sailor on the schooner Lookout. He says his brother had $45 when drowned, and as it was not found among his effects on the Two Fannies, it was hoped it would be found on his person, but there was no money or anything else found in his pockets. The body was turned over to J. H. Tuttle, who had it decently interred in the cemetery that evening.

The roof of the Union House received a coat of fire proof paint this week.

A new meat shop will soon be opened in Bellant's new block, east side of the river.

There will be a special meeting of the A. O. U. W. at their hall next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

A slight flurry of snow yesterday afternoon, just as a reminder of what may be expected in the sweet by and by.

Saturday, Nov. 1st, will be the registration day, and every voter should see that his name is on the registration list.

Mrs. Oliver S. Clark, of Arvon, Baraga county, arrived in Cheboygan Wednesday last week for a few weeks visit with relatives in the village.

Mrs. M. B. Champion has received her new goods, and has an elegant line, haying gloves, mitts and millinery goods for the ladies to select from. See her advertisement.

The Rindskoff Brothers expect to commence moving their stock of clothing to their new stand in the Kessler block, room formerly occupied by Reid & Co., next Monday and propose to make their new store the "Star" clothing house of northern Michigan.

The social of the young people of St. James' church at the residence of S. H. Taylor, Tuesday evening, was a complete success, notwithstanding the inclement evening. The net results were financially over $30 realized and an evening of pleasant enjoyment.

Several hunters from Ohio passed through Cheboygan on the train Thursday morning, bound for the upper peninsula to hunt deer. They stayed at home until after the election to help scoop the Democrats, and then were off to hunt other game. They will return to Ohio in time to vote for James G. Blaine for President.

The difference between Charles F. Gibson the Republican candidate, and S. O. Fisher the Democratic candidate in regard to the endorsement of the Knights of Labor platform is this, Mr. Gibson several months before being nominated as candidate for congress voluntarily endorsed it by becoming a member of the order in the regular way while Mr. Fisher was compelled to endorse it in order to get his nomination. We would ask the members of that order which of the two men under the circumstances is the most entitled to their support.

But few persons are aware of the success attending the effort to make the Hay Fever Association grounds, at Topinabee, a popular resort. The grounds are not excelled for beauty, and attractiveness by any locality in the state. They have been tastefully laid out and plotted. While being under the management of the Hay Fever Association, the benefits and pleasure of the resort is not limited to those afflicted with that annoying malady, but the lots are open to all who may desire to help in improving the grounds. A number of cottages have already been built and the outlook for next season is very flattering. Some of our citizens have secured lots and next spring will erect cottages, among such being Robert Patterson, Hon. Oscar Adams and J. H. Waterman. It is settled beyond a question that the resort will be a grand success and in time one of the most popular in the state.

Two years ago when the Democratic Board of Supervisors thought they had a sure thing on electing James J. Brown, a Democrat, Prosecuting Attorney they considered it a good thing to raise the salary of that office from $400 to $600 per year, but they were disappointed in their calculations by Mr. Shepherd being reelected and then they were mad enough to kick themselves for making the raise. No person that we have heard of, complained that $600 was too large a salary for the office. In our opinion it was little enough. This year feeling that Mr. Frost the Republican candidate was sure to be elected, they concluded to have a little satisfaction for their miscalculation last year in favor of the Democratic candidate and reduced the salary $100 making it $500 per year. Is there any person that believes that if the board thought there was any chance of a Democrat being elected to the office that there would have been any reduction. If two years ago the services of Mr. Brown, or any other man was worth $600 will any member of the board explain why like services are not worth much as now.
